COMPLAINT FOR PERMANENT INJUNCTION REQUIRING CHANGES TO CORPORATE POLICY AND THE ELIMINATION OF DIGITAL ACCESS BARRIERS PURSUANT TO 42 U.S.C. § 12188(a)(2)

Rachel Gniewkowski, Access Now, Inc., and R. David New (collectively, “Plaintiffs”) seek a permanent injunction requiring a change in Lettuce Entertain You Enterprises, Inc. (“Defendant” or the “Company”) corporate policies to cause Defendant’s Websites to become, and remain, accessible, and in support thereof, Plaintiffs assert as follows:

INTRODUCTION

1. Plaintiffs bring this action against Defendant and assert that its websites are not accessible to blind and visually impaired consumers in violation of Title III of the Americans with Disabilities Act, 42 U.S.C. § 12101 et seq. (the “ADA”). Plaintiffs seek a permanent injunction to cause a change in Defendant’s corporate policies related to its web-based technologies so that Defendant’s websites will become, and will remain, accessible. The websites at issue include, but are not limited to, the following: www.leye.com; <http://bigbowl.com/>; <http://www.maggianos.com/>; <http://hub51chicago.com/>;

<http://beatrixchicago.com/>; <http://wildfirerestaurant.com/>; <http://www.monamigabi.com/>;
<http://stellabarra.com/>; <http://mburgerchicago.com/>; and, <http://wowbao.com/> (the “Websites”).

2. While the increasing pervasiveness of digital information presents an unprecedented opportunity to increase access to goods and services for people with perceptual or motor disabilities, website developers and web content developers often implement digital technologies without regard to whether those technologies can be accessed by individuals with disabilities. This is notwithstanding the fact that accessible technology is both readily available and cost effective.

3. Blind and visually impaired consumers must use screen reading software or other assistive technologies in order to access website content. Defendant’s Websites contain digital barriers which limit the ability of blind and visually impaired consumers to access the site.

4. Plaintiffs have patronized Defendant’s Websites in the past, and intend to continue to patronize Defendant’s Websites. However, unless Defendant is required to eliminate the access barriers at issue and required to change its policies so that access barriers do not reoccur on Defendant’s Websites, Plaintiffs will continue to be denied full access to the Websites as described, and will be deterred from fully using Defendant’s Websites.

5. The ADA expressly contemplates the type of injunctive relief that Plaintiffs seek in this action. In relevant part, the ADA requires:

In the case of violations of . . . this title, injunctive relief shall include an order to alter facilities to make such facilities readily accessible to and usable by individuals with disabilities....Where appropriate, injunctive relief shall also include requiring the . . . modification of a policy. . .

42 U.S.C. § 12188(a)(2).

6. Because Defendant's Websites have never been accessible and because Defendant does not have, and has never had, a corporate policy that is reasonably calculated to cause its Websites to become and remain accessible, Plaintiffs invoke 42 U.S.C. § 12188(a)(2) and seek a permanent injunction requiring:

- a) that Defendant retain a qualified consultant acceptable to Plaintiffs ("Mutually Agreed Upon Consultant") and who shall assist it in improving the accessibility of its Websites so that they comply with version 2.0 of the Web Content Accessibility Guidelines ("WCAG 2.0 AA");
- b) that Defendant work with the Mutually Agreed Upon Consultant to ensure that all employees involved in website development and content development be given web accessibility training on a periodic basis calculated to achieve ongoing compliance with WCAG 2.0 AA;
- c) that Defendant work with the Mutually Agreed Upon Consultant to perform an automated accessibility audit on a periodic basis to evaluate whether Defendant's Websites continue to comply with WCAG 2.0 AA on an ongoing basis;
- d) that Defendant work with the Mutually Agreed Upon Consultant to perform end-user accessibility/usability testing on a periodic basis with said testing to be performed by individuals with various disabilities to evaluate whether Defendant's Websites continue to comply with WCAG 2.0 AA on an ongoing basis; and,
- e) that Defendant work with the Mutually Agreed Upon Consultant to create an accessibility policy that will be posted on its Websites, along with an e-mail address and toll free phone number to report accessibility-related problems.¹

¹ Web-based technologies have features and content that are modified on a daily, and in some instances an hourly, basis, and a one time "fix" to an inaccessible website will not cause the website to remain accessible without a corresponding change in corporate policies related to those web-based technologies. To evaluate whether an inaccessible website has been rendered accessible, and whether corporate policies related to web-based technologies have been changed in a meaningful manner that will cause the website to remain accessible, the website must be reviewed on periodic basis using both automated accessibility screening tools and end user testing by disabled individuals.

Defendant's brick and mortar locations and website are integrated and are public accommodations pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 12181(7).

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

14. The internet has become a significant source of information and a means for conducting everyday activities such as shopping, banking, etc. for both sighted and blind and visually-impaired persons, as well as individuals with other perceptual or motor disabilities.

15. Blind individuals may access websites by using keyboards in conjunction with screen reader software that converts text to audio. Screen reader software provides the primary method by which a blind person may independently use the internet. Unless websites are designed to be read by screen reader software, blind individuals are unable to fully access websites and the information, products and services available through the sites.

16. The international website standards organization, W3C, has published WCAG 2.0 AA. WCAG 2.0 AA provides widely accepted guidelines for making websites accessible to individuals with disabilities. These guidelines have been endorsed by the United States Department of Justice and numerous federal courts.

17. Defendant's Websites allow users to view menus, find restaurant locations, purchase gift cards, sign up to receive monthly email newsletters, book private events, make reservations, and perform a variety of other functions.

18. Plaintiffs Gniewkowski and New are permanently blind and use screen reader software in order to access the internet and read website content.

19. Despite several attempts to use and navigate the Websites, Plaintiffs have been denied the full use and enjoyment of the facilities, goods, and services available on the Websites as a result of access barriers.

20. The barriers at the Websites have caused a denial of Plaintiffs' full and equal access multiple times in the past, and now deter Plaintiffs from attempting to use Defendant's Websites.

21. The access barriers at the Websites, include but are not limited to, the following:

- a) A text equivalent for every non-text element is not provided;
- b) Information about the meaning and structure of content is not conveyed by more than the visual presentation of content;
- c) A mechanism is not available to bypass blocks of content that are repeated on multiple web pages;
- d) Web pages do not have titles that describe topic or purpose;
- e) Text cannot be resized up to 200 percent without assistive technology so that it may still be viewed without loss of content or functionality;
- f) If the content enforces a time limit, the user is not always able to extend, adjust or disable it unless the time limit is part of a real time activity or would invalidate the activity;
- g) The purpose of each link cannot be determined from the link text alone or from the link text and its programmatically determined link context;

- h) Labels or instructions are not always provided when content requires user input; and
- i) The name and role of all UI elements cannot be programmatically determined; things that can be set by the user cannot be programmatically set; and/or notification of changes to these items is not available to user agents, including assistive technology.

22. If the Websites were accessible, Plaintiffs could independently view menus, find restaurant locations, purchase gift cards, sign up to receive monthly email newsletters, book private events, make reservations, and perform a variety of other functions via Defendant's Websites.

23. Though Defendant has centralized policies regarding the maintenance and operation of its Websites, Defendant has never had a plan or policy that is reasonably calculated to make its Websites fully accessible to, and independently usable by, blind people.

24. Without injunctive relief, Plaintiffs and other blind individuals will continue to be unable to independently use the Websites in violation of their rights under the ADA.

SUBSTANTIVE VIOLATION
(Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12181 et seq.)

25. The allegations contained in the previous paragraphs are incorporated by reference.

26. Section 302(a) of Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12101 et seq., provides: "No individual shall be discriminated against on the basis of disability in the full and equal enjoyment of the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations of any place of public accommodation by any person who owns, leases (or leases to), or operates a place of public accommodation." 42 U.S.C. § 12182(a).

27. Defendant's brick and mortar facilities and integrated Websites are public accommodations within the definition of Title III of the ADA, 42 U.S.C. § 12181(7).

28. Under Section 302(b)(1) of Title III of the ADA, it is unlawful discrimination to deny individuals with disabilities the opportunity to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations of an entity. 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(1)(A)(i).

29. Under Section 302(b)(1) of Title III of the ADA, it is unlawful discrimination to deny individuals with disabilities an opportunity to participate in or benefit from the goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations, which is equal to the opportunities afforded to other individuals. 42 U.S.C. §12182(b)(1)(A)(ii).

30. Under Section 302(b)(2) of Title III of the ADA, unlawful discrimination also includes, among other things: “a failure to make reasonable modifications in policies, practices or procedures, when such modifications are necessary to afford such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations to individuals with disabilities, unless the entity can demonstrate that making such modifications would fundamentally alter the nature of such goods, services, facilities, privileges, advantages or accommodations; and a failure to take such steps as may be necessary to ensure that no individual with a disability is excluded, denied services, segregated or otherwise treated differently than other individuals because of the absence of auxiliary aids and services, unless the entity can demonstrate that taking such steps would fundamentally alter the nature of the good, service, facility, privilege, advantage or accommodation being offered or would result in an undue burden.” 42 U.S.C. § 12182(b)(2)(A)(ii)-(iii); see also 28 C.F.R. § 36.303(a).

31. Title III requires that “[a] public accommodation shall furnish appropriate auxiliary aids and services where necessary to ensure effective communication with individuals with disabilities.” 28 C.F.R. § 36.303(c)(1). The regulation sets forth numerous examples of “auxiliary aids and services,” including “...accessible electronic and information technology; or other effective methods of making visually delivered materials available to individuals who are blind or have low vision.” 28 C.F.R. § 36.303(b).

32. The acts alleged herein constitute violations of Title III of the ADA, and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Plaintiffs, who are blind and have disabilities that substantially limit the major life activity of seeing within the meaning of 42 U.S.C. §§ 12102(1)(A) and (2)(A), has been denied full and equal access to the Websites. Plaintiffs have not been provided services that are provided to other patrons who are not disabled, and/or have been provided services that are inferior to the services provided to non-disabled persons. Defendant has failed to take any prompt and equitable steps to remedy its discriminatory conduct. These violations are ongoing.

33. Pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 12188 and the remedies, procedures and rights set forth and incorporated therein, Plaintiffs request relief as set forth below.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiffs pray for:

- a. A Declaratory Judgment that at the commencement of this action Defendant was in violation of the specific requirements of Title III of the ADA described above, and the relevant implementing regulations of the ADA, in that Defendant took no action that was reasonably calculated to ensure that its Websites are fully accessible to, and independently usable by, blind individuals;
- b. A permanent injunction pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 12188(a)(2) and 28 CFR § 36.504 (a) which directs Defendant to take all steps necessary to bring its Websites into full compliance with the requirements set forth in the ADA, and its implementing regulations, so that its Websites are fully accessible to, and independently usable by, blind individuals, and which further directs that the Court shall retain jurisdiction for a period to be determined to ensure that Defendant has adopted and is following an institutional policy that will in fact cause Defendant to remain fully in compliance with the law—the specific injunctive relief requested by Plaintiffs is described more fully in Paragraph 6 above;

- c. Payment of costs of suit;
- d. Payment of reasonable attorneys' fees, pursuant to 42 U.S.C. § 12205 and 28 CFR § 36.505; and
- e. The provision of whatever other relief the Court deems just, equitable and appropriate.
